COURSE SUMMARY

The course aims to demonstrate the interrelated nature of business using business models, theories and techniques to support analysis of contemporary business issues and situations.

"When I leave school I hope to study Business Management and Marketing at Cardiff University and pursue a career in the corporate world. I have studied Business Studies, Geography, Psychology and History." Patrick

WHY STUDY BUSINESS STUDIES?

This subject is for people who have an active interest in business and current affairs and are intrigued about the business decision-making process. It has real work application, improves your analytical, evaluation and essay writing skills. Callum

WHAT HAPPENS IN LESSONS?

Lessons involve looking at how external factors can impact upon business and the responses that may be taken. The theory is used to analyse case studies and business behaviour. We get involved in research tasks and develop essay writing structure. Jamie

COURSE ASSESSMENT

This is a new linear course. This means that students opting for an A Level in this subject will be committing to a two year linear course, with all units examined at the end of Year 13. AS Levels will still exist and can be taken as a stand-alone qualification at the end of Year 12, but students taking this option and then continuing to study the subject in Year 13 would have to sit all the A Level units as linear exams to gain that qualification.

MIGHT LEAD TO...

A Level Business Studies shows any potential employer that you have an interest and developed knowledge about how a business works, making it particularly suitable for those looking at a career in business management. If you are applying to university, Business Studies is particularly good preparation for courses such as economics, business studies and many other options. More broadly, some possible career choices with A Level Business Studies include management, marketing, finance, accounting, banking, retailing, manufacturing and local government.

ADVICE ON ENTRY

Business Studies GCSE is not a requirement, but where students have completed the GCSE course, a B grade or higher is preferred. It is important for students to have good written and numerical skills, but also a real interest in business and how it is organised and operates.
