ST BART'S MAYOR MAKING ROLES

Last month St Bart's students were instrumental in the 'making' of Newbury's Mayor for 2022. Having been Deputy Mayor for the previous year, Gary Norman took over from Billy Drummond as Mayor in a ceremony on 15 May at the Town Hall and Corn Exchange. Mr Norman is a St Bart's governor so we were delighted that he asked for St Bart's CCF cadets to support his term of office and for the School's senior orchestra to play at the ceremony.

The Corn Exchange was full to the brim, with a lively buzz of expectation from the very start. Our senior musicians began with a ceremonial fanfare to welcome the councillors to the stage, then performed a set of varied pieces finally rounding off the event with the national anthem.

Cadets, Tomoya Burton and Rose Clark received their 'badges of office' from the mayor. Their task will be to accompany the mayor at the more important events held in the local area throughout his term of office.

Five additional cadets volunteered their services to assist with the whole event. Following a briefing in the Town Hall, various items had to be taken to the Corn Exchange in readiness for the ceremony. They then distributed programmes in the foyer before watching the ceremony itself. While most of those in the Corn Exchange went on to attend a service at St Nicolas church, the cadets returned items to the Town Hall and then moved to St Nicolas church hall to set it up for the buffet. The last of the drinks were being poured as the service ended. The final tasks involved clearing away all that had been used at the buffet and returning yet more items to the Town Hall.

Thanks go to all the students for giving up their Sunday morning to perform in such a prestigious event.

ST BART'S PRIDE

There is a new flag in the Heritage Garden at the front of school. This is the Pride flag and we are flying it in Pride month to show that the LGBTQ+ community is a key part of our St Bart's community. Two of our Sixth Form students shared their thoughts about Pride in a recent assembly.

"This month is Pride month, and as Head Students we feel very passionately about making our school an inclusive, welcoming place for everyone. No matter their sexual orientation or gender identity. In order to make our world a better place for the future, it is important to celebrate pride; to learn about the community and what they have been through to get to the place we are today."

Lucy

"We are lucky that our school is a diverse environment where we welcome all kinds of people, and this month we are celebrating our vibrant LGBTQ+ community. So what does this mean? LGBTQ+ stands for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer - which includes many other identities. Our school is inclusive and a place where we strive to support each other, so, whether you identify as part this community, or if you are an ally, everyone is welcome to join in with our celebrations. As well as this, education is equally as important. We want to ensure everyone feels included, and represented in our school. Ultimately, pride is about togetherness: no one is alone!"

Charlie

These are very powerful and important words. People often talk about tolerance – how we must tolerate different ethnicities, cultures, views and sexualities, but I know that we can do better than to tolerate others. The word that both Lucy and Charlie used was celebrate. By celebrating our differences we make our community more inclusive, vibrant and interesting.

FOUNDER'S DAY ASSEMBLY

Last Wednesday 22 June our whole school gathered for the annual Founder's Day Assembly. It is now 556 years since the founding of St Bart's and we remain a school that both values its history and thrives in the modern world. To mark the occasion Dr Fitter shared with the students the story of how we got our name.

The story of the school began in 1466 when a wealthy cloth merchant called Henry Wormestall left money in his will to support a chapel in St Nicolas Church in Newbury and a priest to pray for his immortal soul. It is likely that the priest also acted as a schoolmaster who would probably have taught his students in the church. Wormestall's name reappears in the records in 1548 when it is recorded that the income from Wormestall's bequest was being used to pay for a schoolmaster.

Our school blazer features a badge with a distinctive cross and the words Ad Lucem, meaning 'Towards the light', along with the school's name in Latin. Schola Sancti Bartholomaei. The cross on the school badge, adopted in 1903, may have been the emblem of the medieval charity of St Bartholomew's which gives the school its name. Although the teaching of boys probably began in St Nicolas Church, by 1548 the school's premises were provided by St Bartholomew's Hospital in Argyle Road. This was not a hospital in the modern sense but a small religious community providing care for the sick and elderly. With the closure of such communities in the reign of Henry VIII, part of the hospital's buildings became a school. Because of this, Wormestall's Grammar School became St Bartholomew's School.

HOUSE CHESS

House Chess for Years 7 to 9 ran in June, with each House putting forward a team of 6 players, with each team playing the other three over three days. The matches were fiercely contested between all four Houses, and before the final matches, any one of Curnock, Davis or Patterson could have won. Six players were undefeated in the competition: Joe Wareham, James Higgs, Harry Godwin (all of Davis), Daniel Jones, Jimmy Pennock (both of Patterson) and Jake Rich (Curnock). The final result is:

	Game Wins
Davis	13
Patterson	10
Curnock	9
Evers	4

Many thanks to all of the players for their consistent effort and Mr Bell for running the competition.

FORMER STUDENT PLAYING FOR ENGLAND

Congratulations to Lauren Bell who this week made her cricket test debut in the England Women's Test against South Africa as part of the squad for Heather Knight's side. Lauren attended St Bart's School before winning a cricket scholarship to Bradfield College. Lauren played for Hungerford Cricket Club, and was the first girl to play for the Bradfield College 1st XI. In 2015, Lauren made her Women's County Championship debut for Berkshire, with eight appearances in the season. In 2019, Berkshire loaned Bell to Middlesex for the Twenty20 Cup. Last year, Lauren took 12 wickets for Southern Brave in the Hundred. Known as 'The Shard' for her height, Lauren's cricket star is rising following her inclusion in the England's A squad for their tour to Australia in 2021. This is the new era of Test cricket for England Women and a huge opportunity for players to stand up and make their mark. We can't wait to see much more of Lauren and we wish her and all the team great success. St Bart's are proud!
