SCHOOL OFFICER TRAINING WEEKEND AT ST CASSIAN'S

On Friday 6 June, 38 School Officers travelled to St Cassian's Centre in Kintbury for a weekend of training and planning for the upcoming academic year. The weekend focused on team-building, sharing ideas and setting out clear priorities for the year to come.

Throughout the weekend, students led breakout sessions on a wide range of topics, including student voice, diversity and campaigns, Holocaust education and House leadership. The Purple Press team shared their exciting plans to develop the student newspaper, and our Diversity and Campaigns team presented on how we can make St Bart's more inclusive on all aspects of diversity.

Afterwards was the legendary "Ready, Steady, Cook" challenge, where each group created three-course meals on a £50 budget. Despite the limited cooking facilities, every group managed to pull off a substantial meal which the staff thoroughly enjoyed. The winning team were the Beacon Reps and the Diversity & Campaigns Officers, who served a meal of halloumi skewers, quesadillas and sweet-topped popcorn.

After dinner, the focus shifted to the annual Trust Fund Bid, led by our Head Students. Ideas ranged from a student gym and a Common Room refurbishment to (perhaps more creatively) the introduction of a school peacock. The weekend closed with ideas for Sixth Form integration, charity and events and ways to ensure that every student's voice is heard in the Sixth Form.

The weekend was an invaluable opportunity to reflect and prepare for the upcoming year. All students have left St Cassian's with a sense of purpose, a plan of action and a shared commitment to making 2025-26 an ambitious and impactful year for all students at St Bart's.

YEAR 10 GRAPHICS VISIT MARWELL ZOO

On Thursday 5 June, Year 10 GCSE Graphic Design students visited Marwell Zoo to take photos for their latest design project.

Despite the rainy weather, there were lots of animals to see. Students got some great images of the giraffes, penguins and monkeys. A highlight of the day for many was the snow leopard, who was having a lovely rest in the rain, which allowed students to get some great reference shots to use as part of their coursework project.

Izzy Rumens (10E3) said, "The giraffes were my favourite, we had such a clear view. It was great to see and photograph the zoo signage. I think they'll be good inspiration for our project."

The Year 10 students behaved fantastically and their enthusiasm was evident throughout the day. Well done everyone!

BRITISH PHYSICS OLYMPIAD CHALLENGES 2024/25

It's been another busy year with St Bart's students taking on the challenges of the British Physics Olympiad (BPhO). Students from Years 8, 10, 11, 12 and 13 took part in a range of written and online challenges. As usual, the challenges have tested the students' problem solving skills, taking them above and beyond their current level. If you are interested, past papers from the written challenges are freely available on the BPhO website. As they say on the front, the papers are designed to be difficult; often 50% is enough for a Gold Award.

The Year 11, 12 and 13 written challenges proved particularly tricky this year. In Year 13, congratulations go to Aayush Joshi who achieved a Silver Award, and Nikhil Kopparapu and Sid Karra who both achieved Bronze 1 Awards. Five students achieved Silver Awards in Year 12: Noah Radley, Jomiloju Badaki, Isaac Rutter, Deenuka Worrall and Will Fortmuller. There were 10 other Bronze Awards. For the Year 11 written paper our highest achieving student was Timmy Wraight with a Silver Award. Otherwise in Year 11 there were 5 Bronze 1 and 8 Bronze 2 Awards.

The online challenges consist of multiple choice questions divided into two 25-minute sections. All Physics Year 12 A-level students took their version. A Gold Award was achieved by Amogh Kasetty. There were also 10 Silvers and 34 Bronzes.

At Years 10 and 11, all Separate Science students sit their online challenges. In Year 11 there were 7 Gold Awards, the highest total scores were Logan Wakefield and Joe Herriman. Year 10 students achieved a massive 18 Gold Awards, with Chris Broadfoot gaining the highest total. All other students achieved either a Silver or Bronze Award. When compared to national results, St Bart's students' average score compares very favourably with other schools.

An exclusive group of Year 8 students took their online challenge this year. The majority of those that entered achieved a Gold Award, with the remainder gaining a Silver. The student with the highest total score was Nila Arulmurugan.

Congratulations to all those who took part. There has been a significant boost in confidence for those many students who achieved higher level awards. I look forward to them taking on challenges in the future.

DESIGN-A-LABCOAT NATIONAL WINNER

As part of National Science Week, St Bart's students took part in the annual Design-a-Labcoat competition run by Baylab. The theme this year was 'Robotics'. The students' design had to explore how robotics influences our everyday lives.

There were many excellent entries and choosing winners was difficult. In the end the two (shown here) that were uploaded as entries to the national competition were from Amelia Proudfoot and Darcey Herdman. Congratulations to both of them. We're delighted to say that Amelia has won the Senior category!

BARBARA MILLS

Years of Service at St Bartholomew's School

1974 - 2009

Last week we received the sad news that Barbara Mills, a long-serving and distinguished teacher at St Bart's for over thirty-five years, passed away peacefully at the age of eighty.

Barbara joined the school in 1974 as a trained librarian and in an illustrious career introduced Classical Civilisation as an A Level subject as well as teaching Latin and English. She organised trips to Pompeii and played a pivotal role in the school's French Exchange to Bagnols. She retired in 2009 after completing a notable career which inspired and benefited the many students who she taught.

BELIZE HIGH COMMISSION WORK EXPERIENCE

During half term, on Wednesday 28 to Friday 30 May, Josh (12E1) completed 3 days of work experience at the Belize High Commission in London. He has written us a report about his experiences:

"I reached out to the High Commissioner, as an opportunity like this would give a real-world sense and understanding of how an embassy works, the Diplomatic systems and International Relations.

On the first day, I helped to organise the first events at the newly renovated offices. First, we hosted CARICOM, with 24 attendees, including High Commissioners from every Caribbean country. I helped to serve traditional Belizean dishes such as Chicken, Rice and Beans and a selection of salads. Additionally, I laid out folders with information of the event and set the tables.

Secondly, Oxford's Diplomatic Studies cohort visited for a panel talk from the High Commissioner and the First Secretary. I was also invited to join the talk and learnt about some international issues that Belize and surrounding countries currently face, as well as domestic issues in Belize. The First Secretary, Jordan Allis Craig, explained how she was recruited on a young team to campaign for the Belizean referendum which would decide the future of the Guatemala's Territorial, Insular and Maritime Claim (Guatemala/Belize) dispute. Furthermore, she explained how she has to analyse and have an in-depth understanding of disputes and conflicts across the globe.

On the second day, I was able to chat further with the other staff members of the Belize High Commission, including the Consular, who showed me how they biometrically process Belizean passports through an international database of every registered Belizean (which included a very embarrassing younger picture of myself!).

On the third day, I had the pleasure of speaking with the First Secretary of the Belize High Commission, Ms Jordan, who gave me an even deeper understanding of what it is like to be a Diplomat and in a position within the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Belize. In addition to this she helped me to think about what I would like to do and got me thinking about which future career I would like to pursue.

Across these 3 days, I have developed a basic insight of the role that an Embassy plays, as well as the different positions of staff that create the High Commission. Not only did I get the chance to meet some extraordinary people but I was able to get a sense of my own Belizean roots."

AMY WINS POETRY PRIZE

Earlier this year, Year 11 went to the Poetry Live! event at which Simon Powell launched the 2025 Poetry Prize.

We're delighted to announce that Amy Oliver (11D3) is one of the winners of this national competition with her beautiful, moving poem 'The sum of 16 years'.

gcse poetry
live!

This is what the poet Daljit Nagra, who judged the competition, said about Amy's poem. "A truly sad poem about the feeling of time being wasted pursuing the expectations of institutions while the joys of life pass by. The speaker feels they are forced to 'listen to the numbers who are above'. The strength of the poem is in its plain speaking and frustrated tone that powerfully captures the feeling of disenchantment."

Amy said, "Winning the competition has meant a lot to me, as it has given me confidence to continue writing poetry. I intend to keep writing poetry in the future, and hopefully that will be supported by the poetry workshop I get to attend in the summer with the other poetry prize winners."

And here is the poem for you to enjoy!

The sum of 16 years

In my eyes I'm still a kid,
I still want to dance and play,
but I'm almost grown-up now,
16's not that far away.

You, should know much better now
for they look up to you.
With smiling eyes and giggling sighs,
You, should know the truth that children don't understand at 6,7,8,9

as we climb far too quickly,
our youth falls silently behind.

See our numbers were stolen.

By essays and tests and pressure and needing to plan 18, 20?
Tell me when I'm supposed to breathe in the life that is mine,
the friendships, first love?
Or maybe I should just listen to the numbers who are above.

I wait and I wait
until I can play again at last.
But it is far too late,
my childhood has already become my past.

In my eyes I'm still a kid
but I'll be 16 soon.
Maybe I should put away the games
and try on my adult costume.

By Amy Oliver

ABI AND ISLA SLEEPOUT

Congratulations to Abi (8C1) and Isla (7E2), who as part of 3rd Thatcham Guides, took part in the Great Tommy Sleepout in March this year. This is an annual, national event to raise money for the Royal British Legion Industries, designed to support veterans who are experiencing homelessness in the UK right now.

Their leader, Sharon Polding, tells us more. "Many other participants of the Sleepout chose to sleep out in tents but our girls used cardboard and tarpaulins to build their own shelters and had only one night booked to do it in. Some of them constructed bivouacs whilst others sandwiched themselves between two groundsheets."

It did rain during the evening but they were undeterred and continued to race around the Thirtover site finding out about why veterans are particularly vulnerable to homelessness, as we tried to dispel some of the myths around this issue.

All of the Guides remained sleeping outside all night (some slept more than others!) which we were all really impressed by. The leaders also slept out in their own bivouac. We all commented what an absolute pleasure it was to take part in this event with these girls, who all demonstrated team work, determination, resilience and courageous advocacy. They even managed to stay dry!

In total, the group raised a huge amount of money and have been given an award as a result. We hope that they will continue to prove that girls can do anything whilst they are members of Guiding and into the future."

English Schools Athletics Track and Field Competition.

Congratulations to the Junior and Inter students who took part in the Schools Cup Athletics competition on Friday 16 May.

Girls

With combined teams of Years 7 and 8 and Years 9 and 10 girls, they were all looking forward to a day of competing against a variety of schools in the region and hoping to score some good points in their events which would then culminate in some good team scores.

Junior Girls

The Junior girls had a successful start in the track events and at half time were in 3rd place. However, having struggled with some of the field events, their finishing position was 5th out of 9 schools but they did have an impressive team points score of 303 points. As a team, the girls worked hard to score as many points as possible and should be very proud of their achievements, as we have just found out that they have reached a B Regional Final on Wednesday 18 June at Winchester. Very well done to you all and thank you! Outstanding performances include:

Penny Prowse who in 100m with a time of 12.9 scored 30 points and in her Long Jump achieved a distance of 4m 47 which gave her 20 points – outstanding!

Avvi Hadadi 300m with a time of 47.8 scoring 17 points and in her Long Jump achieved 4m 12 and 16 points.

Tilly Clare 1500m with a time of 5.44 scoring 22 points and in her Javelin threw 18.02 m scoring 17 points

Jessie McCurtin 1500m with a time of 5.39 scoring 23 points and in her High Jump 1.29 scoring 17 points

Summer Wrzesinski 800m with a time of 2.54 scoring 19 points.

Intermediate Girls

The Intermediate girls had a little more difficulty in getting a team sorted due to injury but showed their strength of character and resilience when they were prepared to compete not necessarily in their favourite events!! Thank you so much! As with the Junior Girls the Inter girls finished in 5th position but had an impressive final point score of 324 points. Again, the girls should be very proud of their achievements, as they too have qualified for the Regional B Final on Wednesday 18 June at Winchester. Very well done to you all and thank you for being so accommodating with your events!

Outstanding performances include:

Anna Hall 1500m with a time of 5.22 scoring 23 points and in her Javelin threw a PB of 22.60m scoring 17 points – excellent performances!

Sofia Hughes 1500m with a time of 5.53 scoring 17 points

Eva Mahoney 200m with a time of 29.2 scoring 16 points and in her shot threw 7.15 scoring 13 points

Chloe Yorston 300m with a time of 47.4 scoring 18 points and in her High Jump 1.32 scoring 15 points

A great day of athletics for you all which you should be very proud of. Good luck for the Regional Finals in June!
